

Ensure Provider Fidelity To Natural Learning Environment Practices

Natural learning environment practices are more than a location. It's the context in which a naturally occurring activity typically happens.

Use this checklist to determine if you align with natural learning environment practices.

- The provider uses only the family's materials during the visit except when assistive technology or assessment materials are needed.
- The visit focuses on supporting parent-identified priorities and increasing the child's participation in the family's typical activities or routines.
- The practitioner focuses on helping the family identify and use the child's interests as a reason to participate in a family activity or routine.
- The practitioner focuses on helping caregivers use responsive strategies to enhance the child's participation in the family's typical activities or routines.
